Celebrities Advocate National Dining Fundraiser on April 28

CONSHOHOCKEN, PA – April 8, 2016 – Though there have been many strides made towards curing the HIV/AIDS epidemic, such as the recent breakthrough of scientists using gene editing to remove HIV from the genome of T-cells, there is still much work to be done and over 1.2 million in the United States affected.

It only takes a meal with family or friends to help during Dining Out For Life® hosted by Subaru®, a delicious event held on Thursday, April 28th. The annual event is magnificent in its simplicity: Dine at one of the 3,000 participating restaurants in nearly 60 cities across North America and that restaurant will donate a generous portion of the day’s proceeds to fund HIV/AIDS care, prevention, education, testing, counseling and other essential services in their city. In total, Dining Out For Life AIDS service organizations assist over 350,000 clients.

Celebrities recognize the clout and importance of Dining Out For Life for not only in raising funds, but also increasing awareness through mealtime conversation. Spokespeople include Ted Allen, host of Food Network’s Chopped, actor Pam Grier (Foxy Brown, Jackie Brown), designer Mondo Guerra, winner of Lifetime’s Project Runway All-Stars, and chef Daisy Martinez from Food Network’s Viva Daisy!

The foursome evoke the fun and lively feel of this annual dining event through a brand new PSA, produced by creative company Alkemy X. Watch here.

“I love working with (Dining Out For Life) because it’s just such a cool, very low overhead operation that raises more than $4 million for American HIV and AIDS service organizations in a single day…It also helps restaurants and chefs get new people coming in to try what they’re doing. It just seems like such a win-win-win for everybody,” says Ted Allen, who has served as a spokesperson since 2008.

According to actor and advocate Pam Grier, a passionate spokesperson for six years: “Just because HIV and AIDS are not front-page news, we need to acknowledge that the epidemic is not yet over. For those of us who are HIV Negative, we need to do more. Dining Out For Life is a beautifully orchestrated and simple fundraiser in which to take part.”
